objectives, experience, risk tolerance, and other relevant factors.

Securities prices may rise or fall and experience significant volatility, potentially becoming valueless. Buying or selling securities does not guarantee profits and may instead result in losses. Investors should thoroughly read and understand the associated risk disclosure statements. Be aware that trading futures or options carries inherent risks. Losses may exceed the initial margin deposit. Despite using 'Stop-Limit order', there is no guarantee that trades will be executed as intended. You may be required to deposit additional margin in a short time, and open contracts may be forcibly liquidated.

If you engage in trading through electronic platforms, you should be prepared for the potential hardware and software failures, which may impede the execution of your trades. Errors may also occur during the connection process.

Stocks listed on the GEM entail higher risks due to significant volatility or limited liquidity. Using collateralized financing for leveraged trading carries significant risk. You may be required to deposit additional margin within a short period and your collateral may be sold without your consent if you fail to meet your margin call on time.

 2. The system will generate a precise "Final Deposit".
 3. Ensure you transfer the exact "Final Deposit" from your external wallet to the Victory Address.
 4. Once the transfer is successful, the address is verified, and the full "Final Deposit" will be credited to your virtual asset account

Step3: Wait for Review and Crediting

Crypto deposits at VictoryX require both blockchain network confirmation and a security audit. It typically takes some time before the record appears in your "Application Records".

Tips

- Due to the technical nature of BTC addresses, small-amount verification is required for every BTC deposit, regardless of whether the address has been previously verified.
- During the verification process, you must use a personal crypto wallet address (transfers from exchange wallets are not accepted) and follow the "Final Deposit" instruction exactly; otherwise, the deposit will fail.
- If a deposit fails, you will need to submit refund details in the app so we can arrange for the return of your funds.

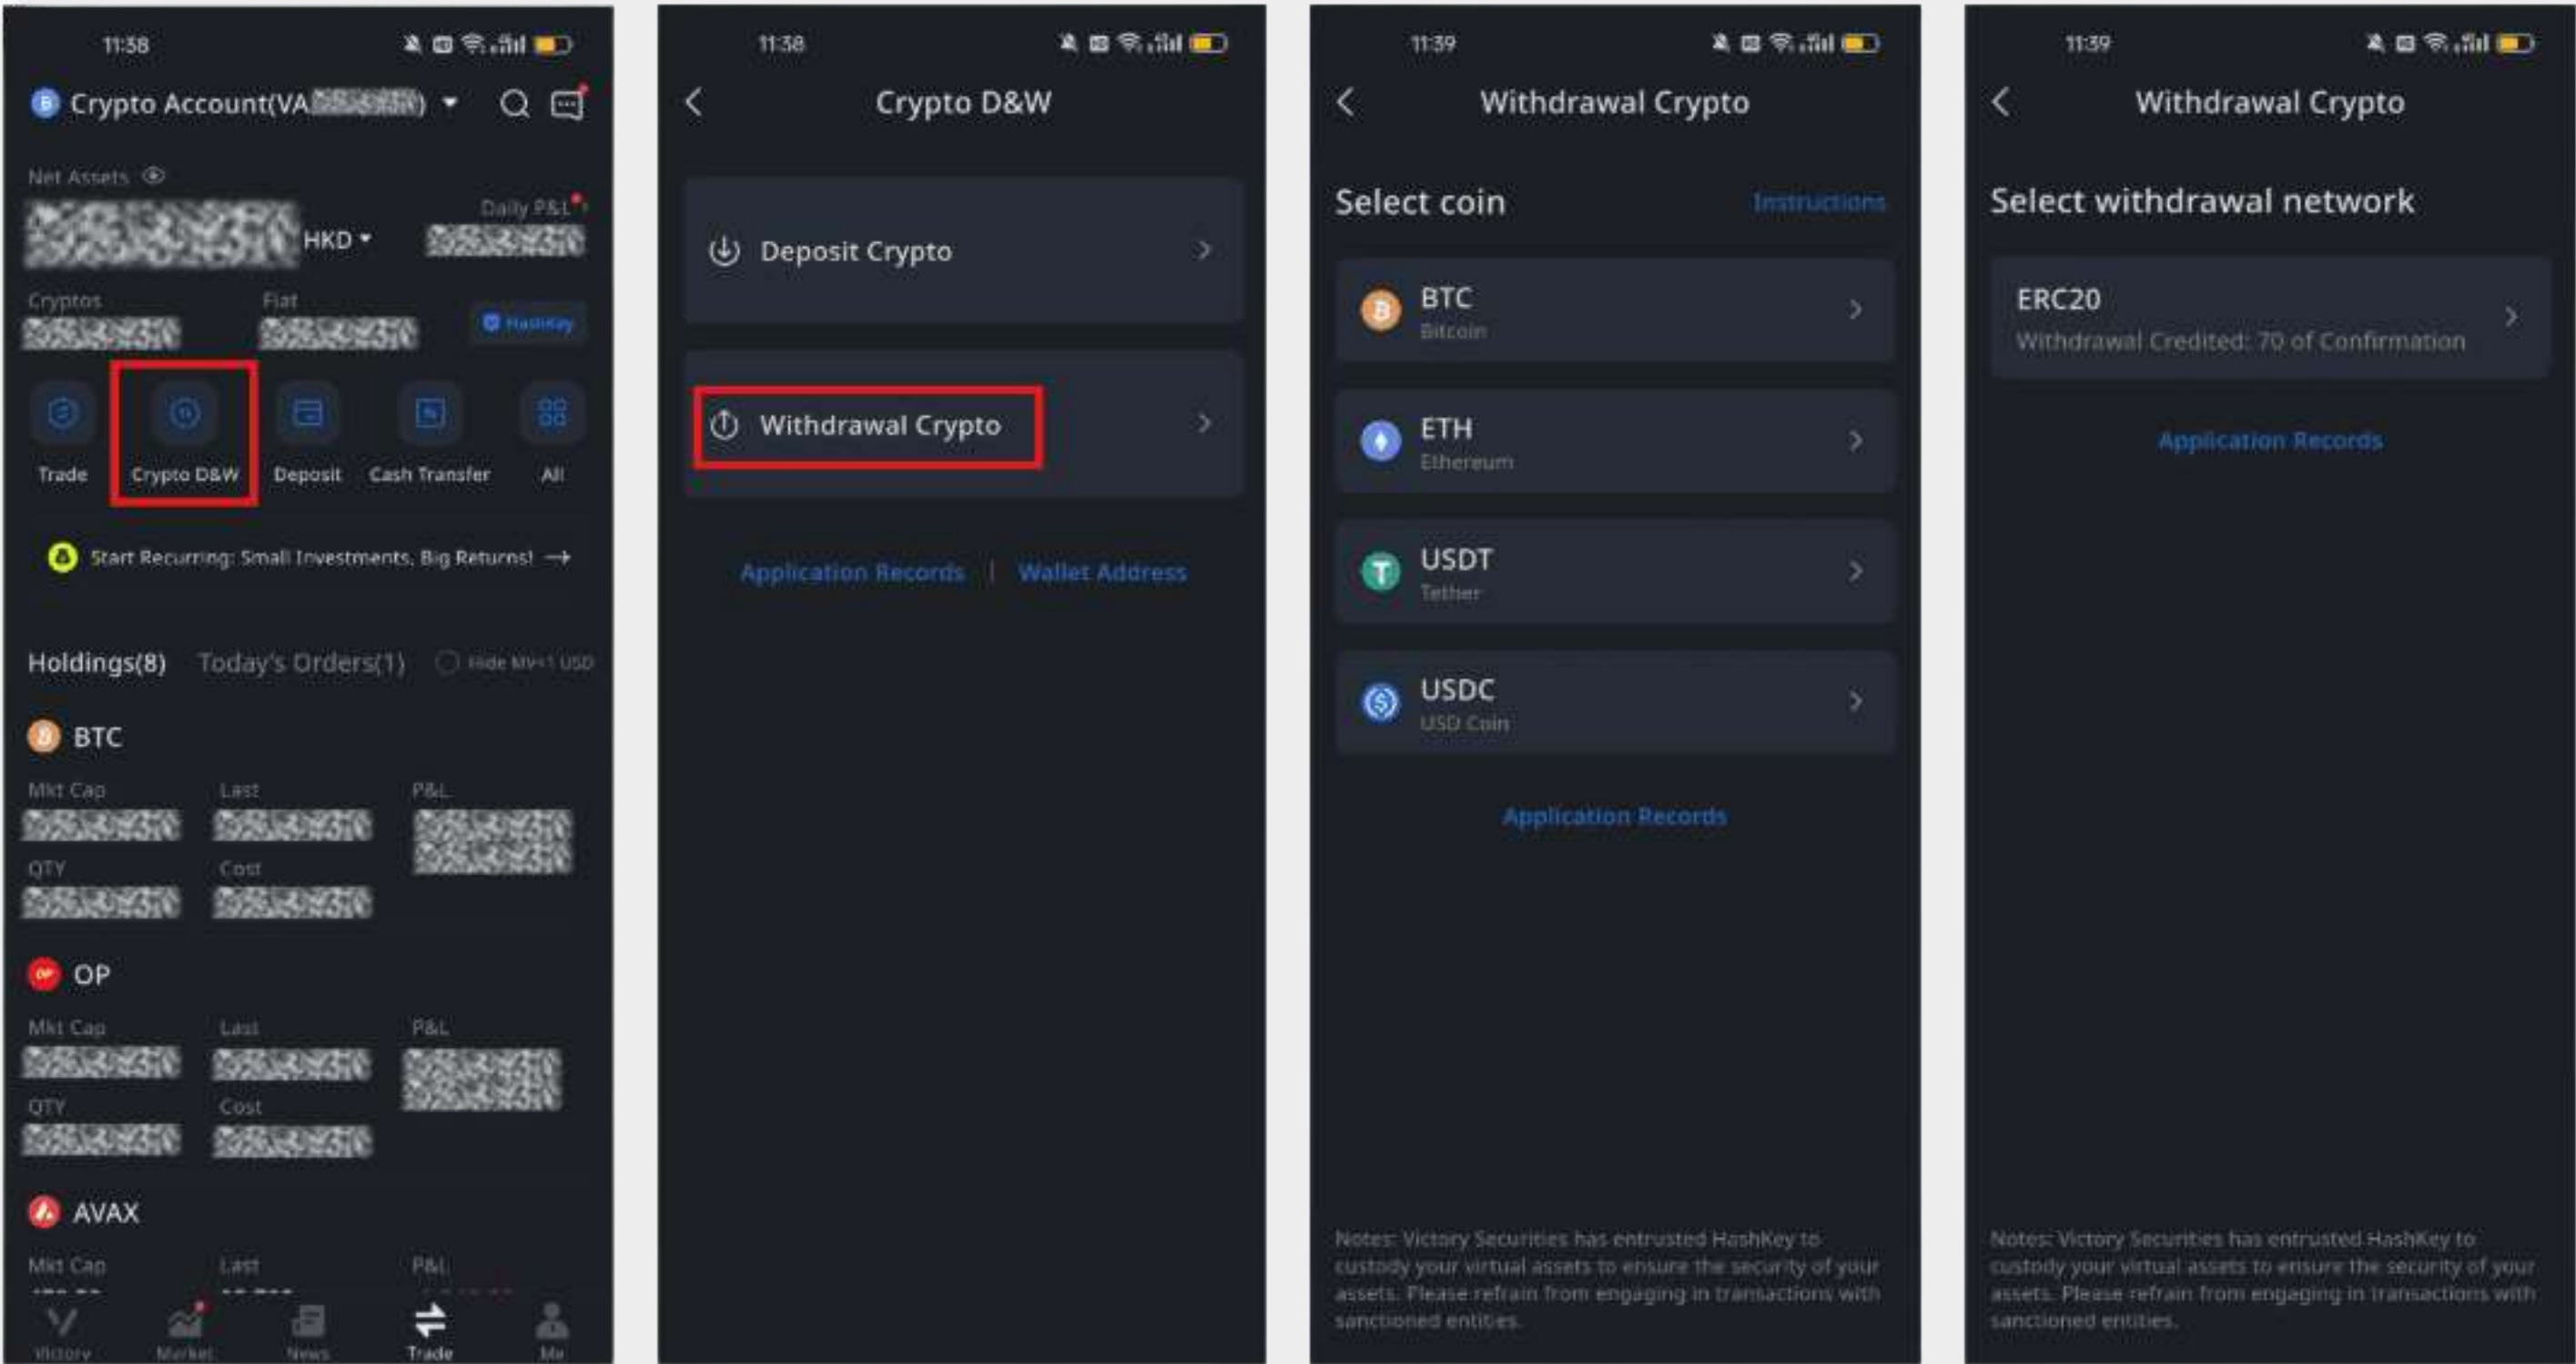

Crypto Withdrawal Process

Crypto Withdrawal Process

"Crypto Deposit" refers to transferring Virtual Assets from Victory VA Account to an external platform (like a personal wallet).

Step1 : Select Currency and Withdrawal Network

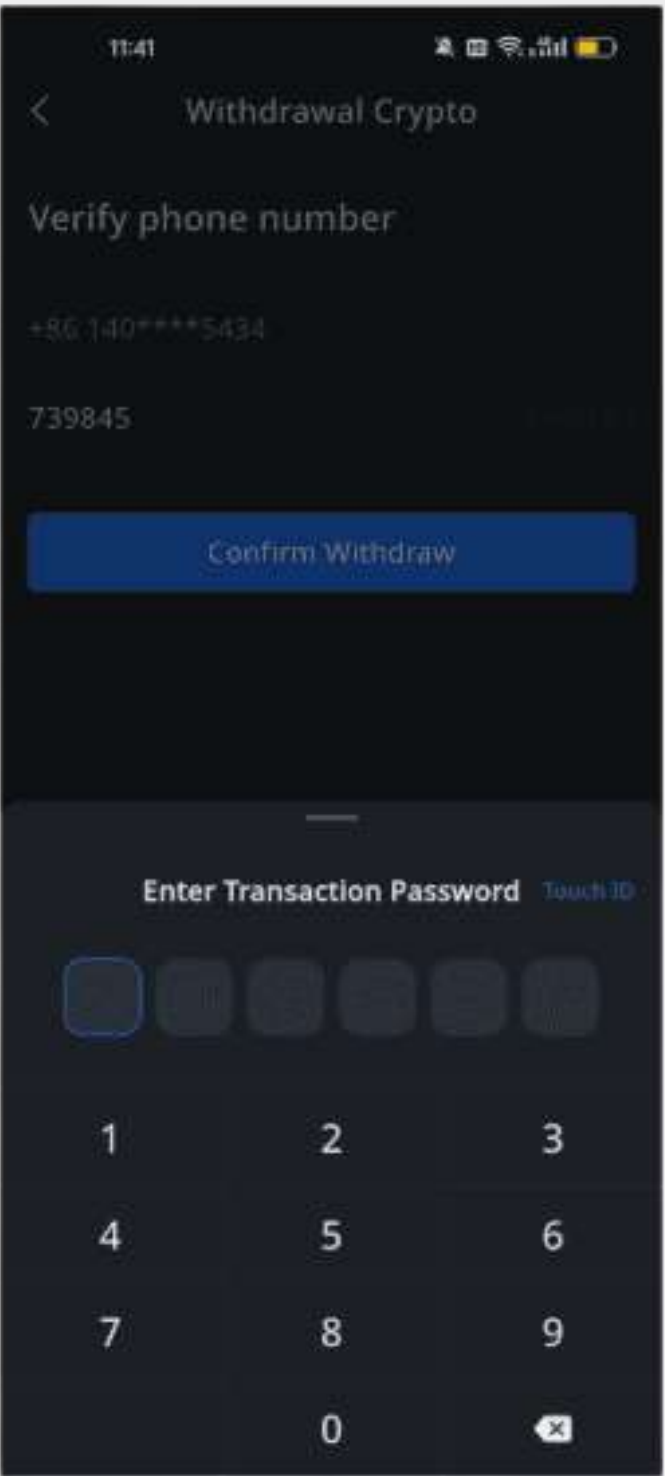

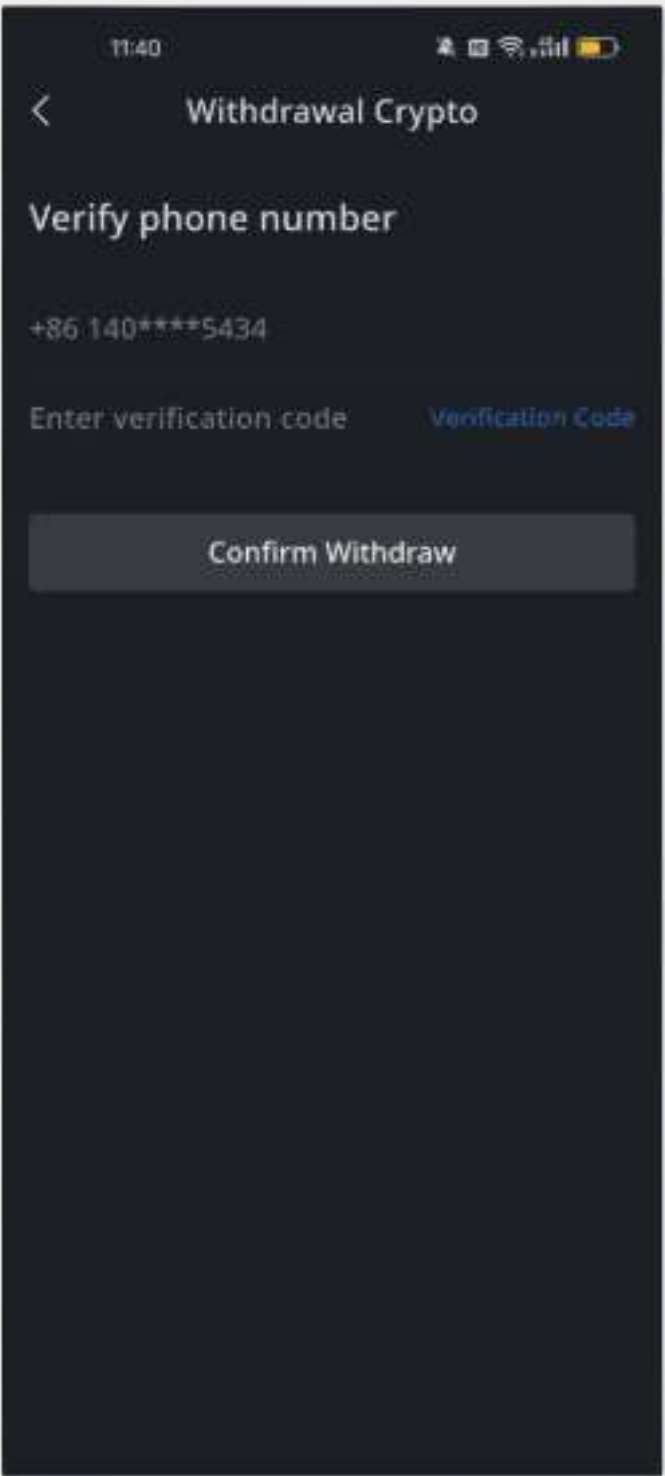

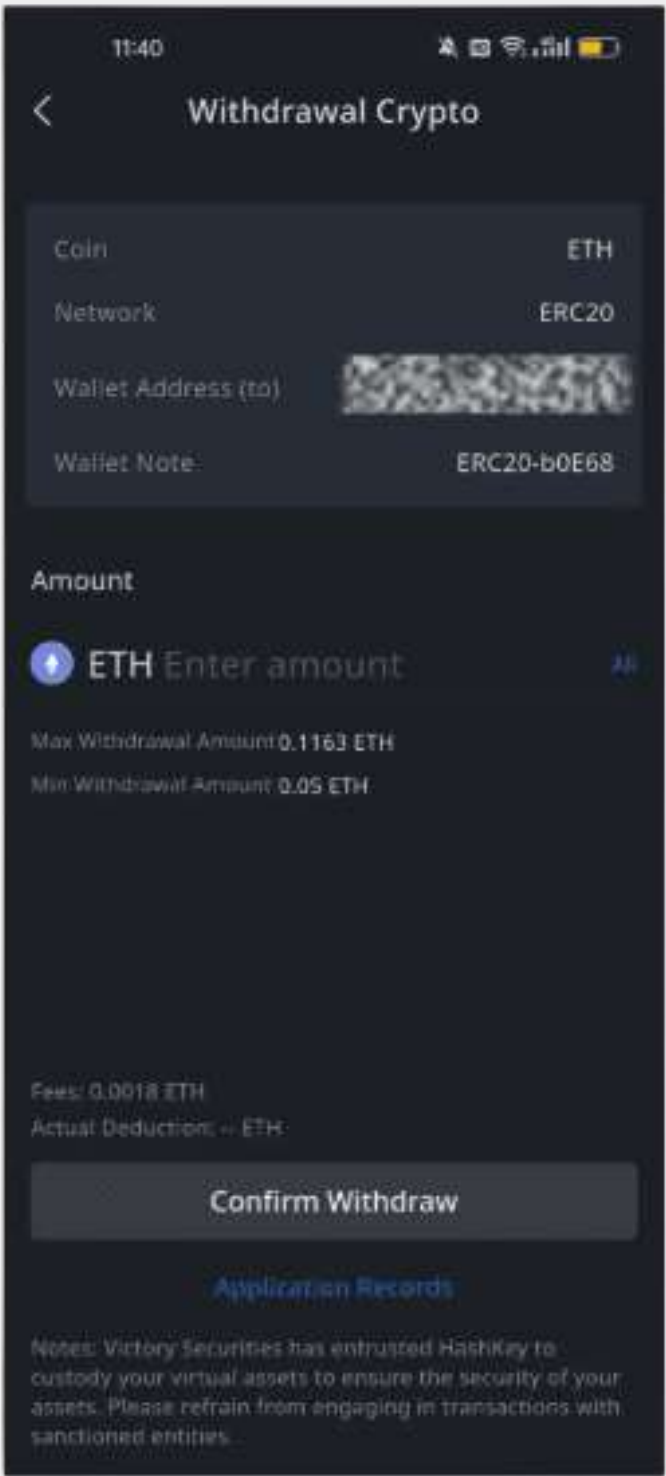

In VictoryX, go to "Trade" → "All" → "Crypto D&W" → "Withdrawal Crypto." Select the virtual asset you wish to withdraw and the corresponding blockchain network. The system will display your added and verified wallet addresses.

Crypto Withdrawal Process

Step2: Address and Withdrawal Amount

To proceed with a withdrawal, you must have a sufficient balance of the selected currency in your Virtual Asset Account and a successfully verified address. After selecting the address and entering the withdrawal amount, complete the security verification (Mobile SMS + Trading Password) to submit the request. Please note that the actual amount received will be the total amount net of transaction fees.

Step3: Wait for Confirmation and Completion

Upon submission, the system will review your withdrawal request. Once approved, the system will immediately initiate the on-chain transfer. You can track the real-time status of your withdrawal under "Application Records."

Important Notes

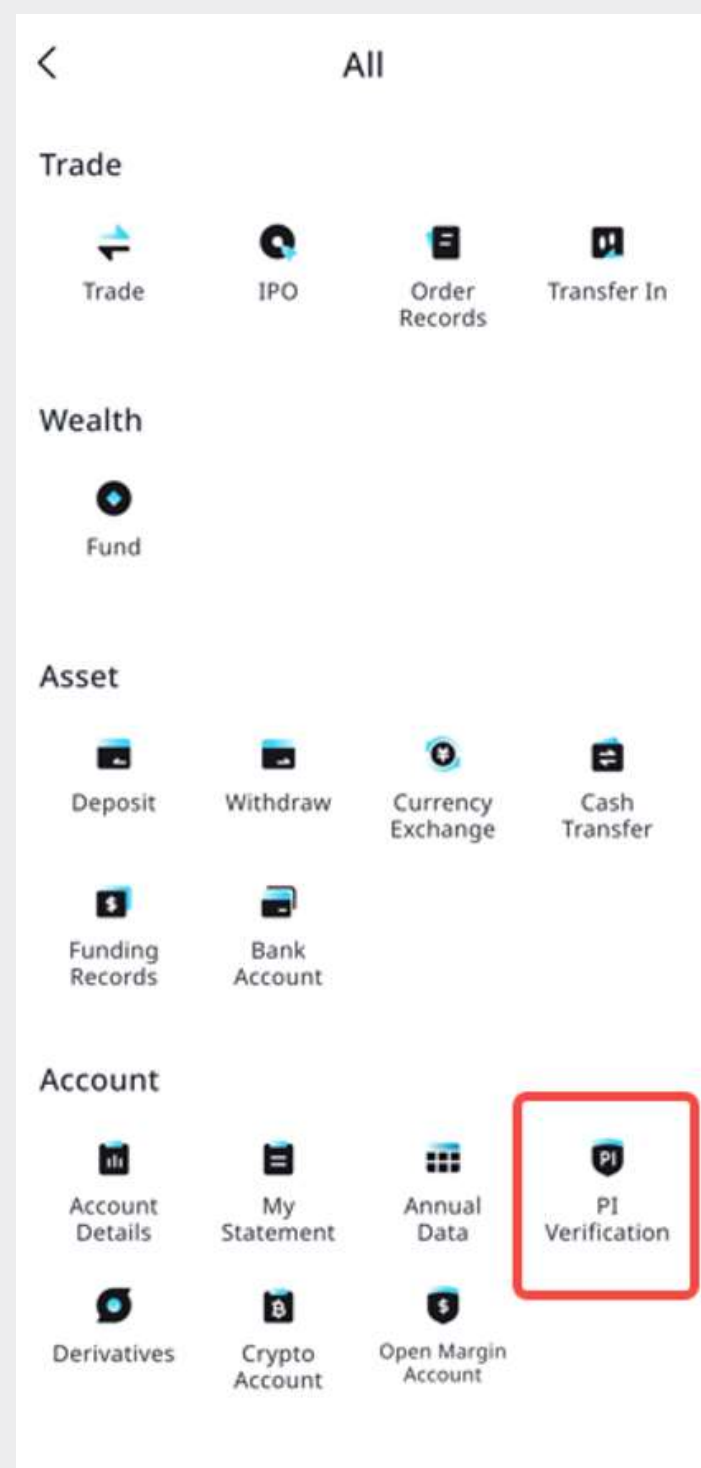

- VictoryX currently only supports withdrawals to personal wallets; please do not withdraw to wallets of centralized exchanges.
- Ensure that the currency, blockchain network, and withdrawal address match perfectly.
- Any discrepancy in the information provided may lead to the permanent and irrecoverable loss of your virtual assets.
